Elizabethton, Tenn., May 16 (A.P.) .-Sen. W. E. Boyd, of the Tennessee National Guard, late today summoned four more companions to the Elizabethton strike area, and told newspapermen he was increasing "military strength because I expect more trouble." Riots occurred in this district early today. One company each will come from Cleveland, Athens and Cookeville, and one from Johnson City, where a textile strike recently was settled.

Boyd said there were 700 strike sympathizers in the court house where the trial of men arrested in riots this morning was in progress. He gave orders that .60 soldiers with fixed bayonets be stationed in the court room. All officers stood with drawn revolvers and some with tear gas bombs and smoke grenades in their hands.

After the films began to burn, it is believed, the entire stock exploded and sent clouds of fumes rolling upward through the stairways and ventilators. With the space between the roof and the ceiling of the upper rooms and the ventilators full of the sickening veilowish-brown gas, the second and beaviest explosion occurred.

The cigar-box-like structure was shaken from the top of its fourth floor to its foundations. Medicine cases, mirrors, pictures, were blown from the walls, which were cracked. Part of the roof caved in and the skylight and windows were blown out. Occupants of the third floor stampeded toward the elevator, aftempting in wain to attract the operator. Piremen found a heap of dead bodies before the elevator door on that floor.

Scenes in the corridors and upper floors were heartbreaking. Men and women, suffocated by the gas, dropped in the hallways, while others dragged women, suffocated by the gas, dropped in the hallways, while others dragged themselves toward windows and doors as the fames licked he woodwork and shot toward the top floor. The Eagle Harbor Coast Guard braved neavy seas today to remove the crew of 31 men from the freighter Ralph Budd, from Duluth to Buffalo, which ran on the rocky shore of Keweensw Point during a gale last night. Latest reports were that the vessel, carrying a $500,- were that the vessel, carrying a $500.000 cargo of merchandise, was being pounded to pieces.

The Raiph Budd is owned by the Great Lakes Transportation Co. and was under the command of Capt. Dougall McLeod, of Buffalo. Capt. McLeod said the storm struck Lake Superior about dusk last night and drove the vessel through a heavy anow to the rocky ahore. Steamship officials said the craft was a complete loss.

Another lake boat, the steamer Henry C. Frick of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., went aground near Saliors Encampment in the lower St. Marys River today. It did not suffer the fate of the Raiph Budd, however, as the storm drove it onto a mud flat from which it was freed by a tug.

Parts of upper Michigan were covered with a foot of snow, while portions of Northern Wisconsin lay covered with two and three inches. Many points report below freezing temperatures.

Fitzmaurice made an East to West transatiantic flight a year ago, arrived in New York from Germany today aboard the North German Lloyd liner Columbus. It becomes the property of New York City, the gift of Baron von Huenefeld, and will be unveiled Tuesday in Grand Central Terminal, where it will be suspended over the east balcony. It will be installed later in the Museum of Peaceful Aris.

A 'stowaway, A. Barkowski. 20, was found in the cabin of the plane when the Columbus was four days out from Cherbourg. He said he was in Bremen, out of a job and with only 2 marks to his name, when he learned it was possible to get aboard the Columbus and see the plane for an admission fee of 2 marks. He paid the fee, boarded the liner the day she left and hid in the plane.

History of Case Called.

Dropping of the impeachment charges turned the pages of probably the stormlest political chapter in the annals of the State. Gov. Long became governor last May 21, Just short of a year ago, as the youngest State chief executive in the United States. He went in on the support of a strong political coalition, but a few months after taking office some of this support began to slip away because of his political and personal actions and a few months ago the impeachment cry went up.

This cry became louder when the governor called the Legislature into extraordinary session on March 18 and attempted to put through an occupational tax on oil. Strong opposition jeveloped to the tax, led by business organizations claiming it would drive industry from the State. Newspapers joined in the fray and demanded impeachment. Gov. Long's spokesmen countered with the charge that it was opposed by the Standard Oil Co. of Louisians.

The tax was defeated and the Legislature turned swiftly to the business of impeachment. In a series of riotous sessions, the House of Representatives voted on eight counts charging misuse of State funds, attempts to bribe legislators, and to suppress the freedom of the press and general incompetency. These eight charges were voted out of a total of nineteen, including one of lecting the murder of a member of plotting the murder of a member of the House of Representatives because he opposed his legislative program.

ELECTION IN BRITAIN

Drastic Reduction in Conservative Majority Is the Only Certainty.

COALITION MAY RESULT

By RAYMOND GRAM SWING. London, May 16.—Memory can not go back to a British election with an outcome so uncertain as the present Only one thing can be predicted tion in Conservative power.

But to promise that the Conservative majority will be wiped out, or that the Liberal revival will have any substance, or that the Labor party will be predominant is to deal 12 guesses, not even expert guesses.

The uncertainty is ascribed, as a rule, to the enfranchisement of young women. But if that were true, guessing would not be so hit-and-mis. Canvassers in the constituencies find that voting goes by families in 90 per cent of the homes. The odd 10 per cent will not vote for any one party, so they will cancel each other out in some measure. The 2,000,000 women over 30 who have the vote for the first time will, perhaps, be more inclined to be Conservative than not, the 3,000,000 under 30, many of them working girls, will be more inclined toward socialism.

Two Other Considerations. But to promise that the Conserva-

rose to slightly over 48 per cent. In this election, even before the Zinovieff letter, pacts had been made in many constituencies whereby the Liberals withdrew their candidates to keep the Labor opponent out. That 48 per cent is not the valid figure of true Tory 500 Liberal Candidates.

This year there is no pact with the Liberals, and there can be no effective Zinovier letter. The Liberals have 500, instead of 200 candidates. The Tory vote apparently is going to fall to a figure well below 40 per cent. The Liberal vote dropped in 1924 to 18 per cent of the total, but should rise this year to its normal of nearer 25 per cent or more. The Labor vote is sure 40 rise, for the party is in the ascendant. In 1928 it polled 22 per cent of the total; in 1922 32 per cent; in 1923 it was stationary, and in 1924 it had 34 per cent.

From the standpoint of total popular rote, it would not be surprising to see a close race between Conservative and Labor parties, each polling 36 to 38 per cent of the total vote, leaving the Liberals with 24 to 28 per cent.

But that gives no clew to the composition of the House of Commons. Conservatives benefited by the three-cornered fights last time; this time they stand to lose many seats by them. stand to lose many seats by them. A freak result is almost as likely as a normal one. But the result that comes nearest to probability is that no one party will have a clear majority over the other two and that the Liberals will hold the balance of power. What then? Who will govern?

too, would mean a new election, probably followed by a heavy Socialist defeat, for the country probably could be frightened into wiping out a So-One possibility not much mentioned now must be borne in mind—a Liberal-Conservative coalition. Such a coalition governed Britain during the war and after 1918. Such a coalition could keep out the Socialists for a few years. And keeping out the Socialists is a cause very dear to a great many British

Lloyd George is not favorable to a Conservative coalition, he is a left wing leader. But the Asquithians in the Liberal party have named many of the candidates in the constituencies where the Liberals have the best chances of winning. And Lloyd George may find himself head of a far more conservative

On the other hand, Labor leaders are against coalition with Liberals, and only the need for carrying on the government (plus the sweet allurement of office) would induce them to form a government in which Lloyd George was a member. It would give him too good a chance to use his unparalleled genius for in-trigue and party wrecking.

Pledge a Strong Weapon. If not a Conservative-Liberal coalition, if not a Labor-Liberal coalition, what then? The question is one of the most agitated problems in Britain. Shall the Liberals put Labor into office as they did in 1923? Sir Herbert Samuel has promised the experiment will not be repeated. Should the Liberals put in the Conservatives? It is far from likely.

The solution appears to have been worked out in Lloyd George's active mind, and he already is giving hints of it. He has announced his "pledge" to reduce unemployment to normal limits in a year's time without cost to the taxpayers. He announces, too, that his interest is in having that pledge fulfilled. If the Liberals can not do it is they will put in whichever party will do it for them. The Conservatives are already pledged against the policy. The pledge, moreover, is just as much as Labor policy as it is Liberal. Lloyd George could put in the Labor party, not on a coalition basis, but for one year of grace to carry out the pledge.

Suppose Labor were given a year to govern; it would need time and experience in implementing the pledge, and more than likely the delay of routine matters would keep its policy from being effective in such a brief time. The bill, providing for compulsory military service in time of war, was sent to the Capitol by Secretary Good several days ago as one of his first outstanding official acts. call for the extra session, it created considerable surprise.

Conscription of man power without accompanying legislation for the conscription of capital has been vigorously opposed by the American Legion, and it was indicated yesterday that this is the majority view, at least, of the Senate. The brief fiare-up in the Senate yesterday was caused by the statement of Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, that he had presented the Good bill simply as a matter of routine and that he was opposed to it personally.

storms, it was asserted today at the first national airport convention here.

To function for adequate safety, airports must operate night and day and work with accurate instruments to determine winds, temperatures, air pressures, cellings and other information vital to safe flying, W. R. Gregg, senior meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau, said.

"Who can question that, within a comparatively short time, apparatus will be devised whereby the pilot will have constantly before him, in panorams, a complete picture of changing weather conditions on all parts of his route," Gregg declared.

With no parachute or any other way of helping himself should his experiments prove unsuccessful, he went up in an N-9, inverted it and brought it out. He then put it into every possible attitude and recovered. As a result of his experiments students were taught how to recover the ship and many lives were undoubtedly saved, to say nothing of a strengthening of morale.

Immediately ad-joining the manor buildings, there is a wonderful natural park, 20 acres in extent, surrounded by a nonclimbable fence, with big old trees and fresh-water lakes where trout and other game fish rise to the sportsman's fly in satisfying size and quantity, and pure crystal-clear springs. An interesting historical relic on the estate is an old furnace where cannon and cannon-ball were cast for use in the Revolutionary War.

The old English boxwood on the lawn of the estate is conceded to be the prettiest in Maryland. It has been growing since Revolutionary times and is priceless. Altitude ranges from 500 to 1,800 feet, assuring Maine weather during summer days.

This property is an ideal playground for a man of means and a lover of nature. Aside from that, its present low price and other factors should enhance its value a hundred per cent within a few years. Catoctin is easily the show place of Maryland.

THIS FATEFUL SESSION.

The leaders of the House of Representatives have decided not to raise a direct issue with the Senate on the constitutional question involved in the debenture provision of the farm bill. The House is expected to adopt a rule sending the bill to conference, with a statement that the House's action in surrendering a constitutional privilege shall not be regarded as a precedent.

It is unfortunate for the dignity of the House that this course was adopted. The Senate is virtually invited to repeat its flagrant invasion of the right of the House to originate revenue legislation. Since the Senate is degenerating in both wisdom and patriotism it is a foregone conclusion that some future unholy and unnatural coalition, as unscrupulous as the one that pushed through the debenture, will outrage the House. At that time the perpetrators of outrage will point to the present surrender by the House of its constitutional prerogative, and will hold with some reason that a precedent has been established which warrants the Senate in infringing upon the rights of the House. The present action of the House, therefore, is merely a postponement of the finish fight that will surely come, in view of the steady eterioration of the Senate.

It is easy to understand the practical considerations which induce the House to sidestep the fight with the Senate. There is an urgent demand for the enactment of the farm relief bill in time to efit this year's agricultural operations. Members of the House are anxious to prove their devotion to the farmer's interest. Since a majority of the conferees on the farm bill will be opposed to the debenture provision, they will force it out of the bill. Thus the House will be in the position of expediting the bill, while if the Senate persists in instructing the conferees to cling to the debenture provision it will be charged with delaying the legislation.

The forthcoming defeat of the Senate plan to insert the debenture plan in the farm bill is evidently regarded by the House leaders as a practical rebuke to the Senate on the constitutional point.

The Senate coalition supporting the debenture is expected to offer it as an amendment to the tariff bill. If the coalition should succeed in attaching the debenture feature to the tariff bill the resulting struggle would probably mark a turning point in political history. Already the differences between the manufacturing East and the agricultural West and South are ominous enough to give the Republican party abundant anxiety. If the debenture proposal should not appear at all, there would still be great difficulty in framing a tariff bill acceptable to both industry and agriculture. With the debenture thrust into the situation, the East might be compelled to filibuster against the tariff bill in order to save itself. But ingenious logrolling has worked wenders in tariff-making heretofore, and it may do so again.

At the end of the road stands President Hoover with a battle-ax, ready, if necessary, to dispatch the debenture, whether it rear its head in the farm bill or the tariff bill. That is good, and reassuring to the ultimate consumer; but it does not signify that the Republican party will be better off than before this fateful extra session was called on the wise advice of Senator Borah.

CLEVELAND'S CATASTROPHE.

Washington, which still mourns the victims of the Knickerbocker disaster, is in a position to sympathize with the City of Cleveland in its frightful calamity. The explosion that wrecked the Cleveland clinic and brought onizing death to more than 120 individuals seems to have been preventable, as was the Knickerbocker disaster. The fire door leading to the room where celluloid X-ray plates were stored had been left open, permitting the outburst of gas that wrought such havoc in human life. Carelessness thus seems to have done more damage than a diabolical plot could have accomplished.

The storing of highly inflammable celluloid plates beneath a hospital crowded with patients is now seen to have been a fatal mistake. In how many more hospitals are similar plates now stored, without even the precaution of a fire door to guard against fire and explosion? Are Washington hospitals entirely safe against such a tragedy? It is said that improved X-ray films are in use which are not inflammable, but it would be well for the authorities everywhere to make sure that a repetition of the Cleveland horror is impos-

REAPPORTIONMENT MUST COME.

On Wednesday the Senate made the combined census-reapportionment bill its pending business, thereby clearing the way for debate to the finish on the measure. The decision was not made without controversy. When Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, brought the subject up he was immediately jumped upon by Senators Harrison, Swanson and other Southern Democrats, who heckled him for two hours. All the old arguments against the reapportionment measure were paraded-that it would be unconstitutional, that it would deprive Congress of its constitutional rights, that it would concentrate in the hands of the President great powers which the framers of the Constitution did not intend him to have. The heckling of Senator Vandenberg gives a good idea of how debate on the measure will

Genuine opposition to the measure comes generally from three sources, namely-the drys, States that will lose representation under reapportionment and agricultural interests which fear that reapportionment will concentrate greater power in urban centers.

Since the last apportionment of Congress the population has become more urban, and may be less dry than is indicated by the present composition of the House. But the fact that the character of representation would change as an effect of reapportionment is not a valid reason for opposing the measure. Millions of Americans are deprived of representation as matters now stand, and until seats in the House are reassigned its every act is subject to challenge on constitutional

Opponents of reapportionment have given ample warning that they will campaign against the measure. Since their arguments are plausible, there is danger that they may succeed in defeating it. It is a time that a sense of justice should be aroused in the American people, so that the House shall be reconstituted in accordance with the population. If the United States is to continue as a democracy reapportionment must be made.

WONDERFUL ARE FIGURES.

Considerable interest is attached to the economic effect of the prohibition law. Is prohibition responsible for prosperity of the United States? What has prohibition cost, or what savings has it made possible? One answer to these questions was made public last Sunday by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Another was published on Wednesday by the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The antiprohibitionists assert that the cost of prohibition to the taxpayers of the United States last year came to $936,000,000. "This sum," says the association, "includes an accurate but conservative allowance for the loss of Federal and State revenue. Federal appropriations for enforcement and the annual loss of Federal revenue total $886,000,000. or slightly more than was paid to the Government in the form of income taxes." The association calls attention to the insistent demand for larger appropriations for prohibition enforcement, and foresees the day when the total bill for prohibition will come to $1,200,-000,000 annually.

But the Methodist board reads the prohibition situation through glasses of another color. It takes into consideration the retail liquor bill of the American people for 1916 and asserts that "there is no doubt whatsoever that if the saloons had remained open the bill would have been double in 1920 due to increased prices." This makes an annual saving in "direct liquor cost" amounting to $4,000,000,000, to which is added the "indirect or consequential saving due to increased efficiency and the sobriety that has permitted mass production, which has amounted to as much more." Thus the board sees a saving of $8,000,000,000 annually as a result of pro-

From these conflicting figures may be gleaned an idea of what the presidential investigating commission will have to face. Both the wet association and the dry board profess to be able to back up their statistics with irrefutable evidence, whereby one finds that prohibition has been a disastrous expense and the other finds that it has saved billions. All of which proves that statistics in the hands of those who know how to use them are wonderful things, indeed.

SMALL BORROWERS.

The movement started in New York a year ago to provide money at reasonable interest rates to small borrowers has met with success. The National City Bank, which pioneered in this field with a personal loan service, announces at the end of the first year of its experiment that loans totaling $16,529,805 were made to 51,203 persons. The first year's operations were conducted without profit, but increased volume of business gives promise that the new service will "pay its own way" in the future. The bank will continue and expand this service.

Need for some system by which small borrowers could obtain money for emergencies became acute in New York following a drive against loan sharks, who had been charging usurious interest for this service. The personal loan plan makes sums of $50 to $1,000 available to low-salaried persons at a 6 per cent discount. No security is necessary and no service charge is made. Most of the business transacted last year was in the nature of "character loans" made on notes signed by the borrower and two others. Money was advanced on about 87 per cent of the applications received, and 97 per cent of all payments on loans were made regularly. Legal action was necessary in less than 1 per cent of the cases.

The distinctive feature of these loans is the installment plan of repayment. The agreement provides that the borrower must deposit a certain amount each week or month, on which compound interest is paid. In this way many were able to accumulate enough to pay off the obligation in advance, and a considerable number of the earlier borrowers have now become savers on the weekly or monthly

Some plan for protection of the small borrower has long been needed. Activities of the loan shark have not been confined to New York. Now that one bank has experimented with small personal loans and found the losses negligible, this plan may be expected to gain wider adoption. Operated on a large scale it can no doubt be made profitable.

MARK HANNA'S DAUGHTER

By THEODORE G. JOSLIN, In Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, the congresswoman-at-large from Illinois, wants to be the first woman to be elected to the United States Senate. In an attempt to realize her ambition she will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator against the incumbent, Senator Charles S. Deneen. Although she has barely begun her service in the House, she is launching her campaign for the Senate, establishing headquarters in Washington and Chicago and lining up organizations in the Prairie State. She is showing the same enthusiasm for her own candidacy that she did for the advancement of her husband, the late Medill McCormick, whom she was most influential in advancing from the House to the Senate and whom she would have projected to an even higher position had he lived.

Mrs. McCormick, who is a daughter of the late Mark Hanna, and thus comes naturally by her strong political bent, not only is desirous of being the first woman to be elected to the Senate, but is especially anxious to defeat Senator Deneen, who won his election to the upper branch of Congress at the expense of her husband, defeating him for renomination six years ago. She will have the support of various factions in the State as well as of the Chicago Tribune, which may or may not be a help to her. While her candidacy offers a threat of a feminine invasion of the Senate for the first time, it does not dismay Senator Deneen. He has made a good record for himself during his term in the Senate. He is powerful in Republican councils in Illinois. He dislikes the kind of a contest that is to be made against him, but he is going to meet it. It will be one of the most interesting political battles in the off-year campaign. Mrs. McCormick has been openly hunting for the political scalp of Senator Deneen ever since the death of her husband. In the last few years she has built an organization in Illinois that has come to be the envy of most men politicians in that State. During the 1928 campaign, when she was a candidate for Congress at large, she toured every county. and, as a result of her aggressiveness, received more votes than any other candidate on the State ticket.

Mrs. McCormick has manipulated the political wires cleverly. O. F. Glenn, elected to the Senate last November, is said to owe his him early as the best bet for the senatorial nomination. Mrs. McCormick also supported Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, but so did Senator Deneen. The entrance of Mrs. McCormick in the senatorial contest obviously places the governor in a trying position.

In the contest for presidential nomination year ago Mrs. McCormick went sled-length for former Gov. Frank O. Lowden. Senator Deneen kept out of the affair until Mr. Lowden issued his defiance of the convention just before Mr. Moover was nominated and then Deneen vigorously denounced the Illinois candidate. The Lowden faction on this account should be friendly to Mrs. McCormick. She will have the help as well of what is left of the William Hale Thompson faction in Chicago. The mayor doesn't like Mrs. Mc-Cormick, but he likes Senator Deneen less.

As against this Senator Deneen is credited with controlling the majority faction in the Republican party in Chicago, and, as the senior senator, he will have the major voice in distribution of Federal jobs in the State.

Mrs. McCormick's peculiarity as a politician is her "mannishness." She abhors pink teas and talks vigorously against women running for office on the sole ground that their sex is entitled to representation. She recently expressed the view that there was no woman in the United States possessed of the experience requisite for membership in the Cabinet. She said that if women aspired to the higher offices they must approach them by proving their vote-getting capacity and their efficiency in lesser posts.

Curiously enough this talk seems not to have hurt her in the eyes of the women of Illinois. She is popular with the women's clubs, perhaps because she has gone vigorously after the support of the key women in these organizations. While she abjures the usual practices of the women politicians and seeks to be recognized on a parity with the male statesmen. Mrs. McCormick is not without social wiles. She has a home on F street in the downtown section of Washington which for many years has been rated among the pleasantest places in the Capital to dine. Her dinners are highly popular, but not through their exploitation in the society columns.

Like Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, who is her closest personal friend in Washington. Mrs. McCormick is possessed of a social standing so high that she is able to ignore the usual practices of official hostesses and still secure the attendance of about any one she chooses to invite. She assembles her dinners more with a view to the intelligence and wit, and latterly the political importance of the guests. than their rating in the social register.

In addition to her office at the Capitol she has rented a suite in a downtown office building in Washington, where capable political workers keep in close touch with all of the political developments in Illinois. It is said that she has similar establishments both in Chicago and the State capital at Springfield.

Is this, then, an assertion that no man, either rich or poor, should provide a soft life for his children? It is not. No rule can fit all cases. Some children are crippled or mentally unfit. And though his children are sound and bright, the rich man who must choose between caring for them and leaving his wealth to strangers can not find a fair or sensible reason to enrich the world at the expense of those he brought into the

No moot question can be settled in a casual essay of 300 words. "Do you think married women should work for hire?" people ask. It is like asking whether a man's appendix should be removed. The answer must depend on the individual's condition.

If the husband's earnings are not sufficient to care for the family, and the wife can earn money without neglecting the children too much fect in a circular we have received tell- or endangering her own health, who can question her duty and her who must work or starve? "Should women bear children?" Again there must be many answers to fit many conditions. The rich and intelligent woman should of the young United States, fr if she desires children, and can bear sturdy ones without losing her health. The diseased or feeble-minded woman should not, nor should the woman whose children are doomed to poverty and woe. The children are the ones to consider. Why bring them into the world without their consent if life promises them nothing but misery?

"Should children be whipped? The answer must fit each child. For their own sake they must be taught obedience. A sharp word is sufficient reproof for one; an old-fashioned caning works wonders with another. There is no set rule. The proof of the system is in the character of the child it produces. The medicine that cures is the right medicine-in that particular case.

Guides for the Blind.

Baltimore Sun: Personal tests by blind man in New York will be made this week to establish the value of dogs as guides, so as to give light on the question of whether a dog training school should be established. It is a courageous deed for a blind man to challenge New York traffic even with the aid of a dog which, as his does, sits still on the curb when motors are approaching. Presumably, too, that experimenter will be treated like another blind man, who recently said that he feared he had too high an opinion of the human race—he always found people to be kind and helpful! Human aid would interfere with the test, and yet who could wish it omitted?

FIGHTING RUSSIANS.

From statistics published by the Moscow Institute of Criminology it appears that Russians settle their differences largely by fisticuffs, says the New York Times. The pistol and the knife play very minor part in personal collisions. Probably almost as many street exhibitions of "the manly art of selfdefense" occur in the United States, but in this country no count of them would be made by an institute of criminology-certainly not by the po-

MEASURE OF THE UNIVERSE Prof. Ludwik Silberstein has measured the universe, and those who tried to understand the Einstein formulae now have some new equations on which to try out their mathematical dilet tanteism, says the New York Times. The radius of the universe in miles is 325 followed by 17 ciphers, as contrasted with the earth's radius of but 3.963 The Silberstein measurement, from one end of universal space to the other, is 32,500,000,000,000,000.000 miles.

There is no food for amateur mathematicians in figures like these. The experiments come in considering the formula by which Prof. Silverstein and his associates worked out their meas urements. Prof. Einstein's original theory of relativity was applied to the velocities of certain distant stars-35 stars of one type and 24 variable stars the heart, according to a distinguis twenty times the mileage given above. That was before the relativity theory formula.

There was, of course, bitter opposition to the Constitution from all classes of people when that immortal instrument of government was offered to the thirteen original States for ratification. Lawyers did, indeed, oppose it—among them, Patrick Henry. But its ultimate triumph was achieved getmarily through the labors of two of the most brilliant lawyers in American bistory-Alexander Hamilton and John Marshall.

In the Philadelphia convention, it is rue, Hamilton had first argued for a Constitution quite different from the one which was ultimately adopted and or which he voted. In that convention there was scarcely a member, lawyer or layman who looked upon the Constitution as anything more than clever but quite indispensable, series of compromises. FOREIGN-BORN BOOK READERS DISCUSSED Youth, Who Confesses to Librarians Hear of Methods Used to Mold Character Through Literature.

AUTHORS ARE SPEAKERS

Round-table discussion of a variety of subjects relating to libraries and phases of public life were featured at the sessions of the American Library the sessions of the American Library Association Convention yesterday in the Washington Auditorium. Two addresses were delivered at the morning session. Herman Hagedorn, author of "A Boy's Life of Theodore Roosevelt," made suggestions for building up the Roosevelt memorial collection, and Charles Moore, author of "The Family Life of George Washington," spoke on George Washington, spoke on George Washington, one of the major problems under discussion was that of ways to meet adequately the needs of foreign-born readers.

The habit of reading good books is a power that helps determine the type of citizenship and of leadership, as well as culture, of these people, it was pointed out.

was pointed out.

The Massachusetts division of public libraries solves the problem in the following ways, according to Edua Phillips, adviser in work for the foreign-born of that division: Methods Used in Bay State.

Methods (sed in Bay State.

"Consultation is offered on such topics as surveys of local racial elements; extension of library contacts with evening schools, racial societies and individuals; evaluation of books owned by libraries in native languages and in English, applicable to the reading needs of allens and of Americanization workers; exhibits illustrating the handicraft and culture of the various races.

"Talks are given and regional meetings arranged for library staffs, training classes and conferences, American clubs or societies interested in the foreign-born, racial societies and Americanization teachers. These talks are on such topics as the reading of the foreign-born and ways in which interested American societies can be of help to their local library and introduction of the library to the immigrant."

Catalogues and book reviews in Braille to enable the blind reader to select his books more intelligently were advocated at the blind roundtable.

Distribution is Discussed.

Distribution Is Discussed. In order to eliminate waste and get In order to eliminate waste and get better distribution of Government publications, the following proposals were made: Establish three classes of depository libraries: 1. Twenty central depository libraries, which shall agree to keep two copies of each publication—one for the use of readers and one to be circulated as needed through the other libraries. 2. Five hundred general depositories, which shall have the right to select in advance the classes of publications to be received. 3. One thousand restricted depository libraries, which shall be entitled to receive publications upon application.

which shall be entitled to receive publications upon application.

In efforts to find more library space, it was suggested that all books be divided into two classes, live and dead books, and workers were urged to store away those books that do not earn their place upon the shelves.

Interracial understanding will be brought about, it was pointed out, by the reading, but one should begin first by reading about the world as a whole to get understanding of the entire situation; then branch out to books of different races, it was said.

Dirigible's Engineer Takes Whaleboat to Hunt Six Lost Men.

Bergen, Norway, May 16 (A.P.).—The whaleboat Heimen was on its way today to search for the six members of the dirigible Italia, lost somewhere in the frozen North, and to test thereby the stubborn beltef of some of their friends that they are still alive.

More than a year ago—May 6—the Italia, with Gen. Umberto Nobile in command, crashed north of Spitzbergen. The main cabin, containing most of the crew, fell to the ground, but the dirigible itself, with Pontremolt, Lago, dirigible itself, with Pontremolt, Lago, Arduino, Caratti, Alessandri and Clocca within it, sailed on toward the east. Neither it nor the men were seen

The Heimen, which left Bergen last night, is in charge of Glanni Albertini, engineer on the Italia, who believes they are still alive. Even if dead, he thinks, their families and the world are entitled to know what became of them.

nanufacture of heavy trimotored metal planes. The Packard Motor Car Co. has been experimenting for months with a Diesel oil-burning airplane engine, the first successful flight of which was announced this week.

Wright Stock Transferred.

Wright Stock Transferred.

In consideration for the purchase of the Fokker stock, James A. Talbot, chairman of the Fokker board, announced that General Motors has turned over to the Fokker Co. all of the capital stock of the Dayton-Wright Co., the assets of which consist of McCook Field, in the heart of Dayton, Ohio; a large number of valuable patents having to do with the aviation industry and additional cash assets of substantially $6,500,000. Negotiations for the purchase were closed today after months of negotiation.

Anthony H. G. Fokker, who, with Mr. Talbot, Harris M. Hansue, president of the company, and their associates, is believed to control 40 per cent of the Fokker stock, will continue with the company in charge of engineering and design. The present personnel will be continued in the operation of the Fokker Co., supplemented by additional personnel from the General Motors organization.

Three Plants Operating.

"One of the considerations which led o the sale of the substantial interest in he Fokker Co. to the General Motors o the sale of the substantial interest in the Fokker Co. to the General Motors Dorporation upon such favorable terms," add Mr. Taibot, "was the conviction that the association with the General dotors Corporation would be of tremendous advantage to the Fokker Co. In connection with the manufacture and distribution of Fokker planes."

The Fokker Co. was incorporated in Delaware, December 3, 1927, to acquire the entire share capital of the Atlantic craft Corporation, incorporated in tew Jersey in 1923 by Mr. Fokker. The tidantic company previously had acquired the right to use all patents, designs, &c., of Mr. Fokker in the manuacture in the United States, Canada and Mexico of Fokker planes. The company manufactures a number of planes, anging from one to four motors, pewred by Wright and Pratt & Whitney motors. By a reciprocal agreement with Canadian Vi 2008, Ltd., both commiss have the right to manufacture as the other's planes.

Fokker plants are at Teterboro, N. J.; assair, N. J., and Glendale, W. Va., ith a fourth plant planned for the acific Coast.

Used in Noted Flights.

Used in Noted Flights.

Fokker planes have been used in several notable flights, including the Byrd transatiantic Arcti and Antarctic expeditions, the Amelia Earhart transatiantic crossing, the Maitland Hawaii flight and in the endurance record established by the Question Mark. One of their latest planes is the four-moon DT-52, reported to be one of the largest commercial planes manufactured, which his roommodations for 32 passengers, including sleeping quarters.

Mr. Talbot and Mr. Hansue also own a controlling interest in the Western Air Express, which operates mail and passenger service but ween Los Angeles and San Francisco and Los Angeles and Sal Lake City.

Mississippi River Dwellers Man Levees to Keep Water Within Banks.

WIDE AREA IS MENACED

Memphis Tenn., May 16 (A.P.).—The river folk have gone into battle once more against their enemies, the Mississippi River and its tributaries.
From Hickman, Ky., on the Mississippi, and from numerous points on the White, St. Francis and smaller the White, St. Francis and smaller streams there came to the river commission today stories of men called from their homes and employment to work night and day on the levees. For 66 days the Mississippi has risen, or at best has rolled a stationary volume of water against the levees built to guard the farm and home lands along its banks. Recent rains have added to the burden both in the main stream and in the tributaries.

Engineers directing the work at Hick-

Engineers directing the work at Hickman reported to the Red Cross that parts of the levee below there had overflowed. The levee along the river bank has been reinforced by a newer embankment which has not been completed. A break in the old levee would release tons of water against the partially constructed sections of the new levee. Should this safeguard fail, engineers estimated, probably 100,000 acres would be flooded.

Ransom of $25,000 Mexican Fails.

Mexican Fails.

Hankow, China, May 16 (A.P.—Advices received at Hankow today reported the release by bandits of the Rev. Harry A. Schwendener, of Chicago, a missionary for the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

The advices stated that Mr. Schwendener and the Rev. Edgar Traux, of Boone, Iowa, who were kidnaped on April 23, near Sungtao, Kweichow, were held captive in a cave where they were tortured. A ransom of $25,000 Mexican was demanded. When this was not forthcoming Mr. Truax was released on April 29, and was instructed to obtain $600 Mexican. When this was not forthcoming, Mr. Schwendener was released on May 13.

Is Sufficient.

Trenton, N. J., May 16 (N.Y.W.N.S.). Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Trenchard today called the members of the Mercer County grand jury before him and ordered them to report indictments for liquor violations. Justice Theman of the panel, filed a complaint with the court, charging that the liquor cases were not being considered seriously.

Wilson was the leader of a minority favoring reporting indictments. The difference of opinion caused a bitter clash between the jurors.

Justice Trenchard warned them that, even though scanty evidence was presented, an indictment should be reported if the State had established a prima facie case.

with that quality in improved "Standard" Gasoline that sweeps you to the forefront when the traffic light says "Go"... carries you on and cuts you in ahead of "lazy-motored" cars . . . reduces the necessity of shifting gears—and makes you proud of your mightier car.

"STANDARD" dealers and attendants at "Standard" Service Stations practice daily those little courtesies which have earned them the reputation of giving "service with a smile." But the free water for the radiator, free air for the tires, free road maps to show you the way, are all incidentals to that bigger servicedispensing of clean, rich, improved "Standard" Gasoline. It's clear as crystal. Sold everywhere at red "Standard" pumps with the familiar "Standard" globes.

NO matter whether your car be a saucy, speedy roadston. speedy roadster or a stately, powerful sedan - this improved "Standard" Gasoline helps it conquer traffic. It's a richer gas, a more volatile gas. Limbers up like a sprinter and beats other cars to the "crossings." It's an all 'round flexible gas, too. Puts its back behind a ten-ton truck as easily as it skims the hills with a touring car. That's because its range of boiling points is carefully attuned. Improved "Standard" Gasoline is gassier. And yet it doesn't waste itself in flashy acceleration alone. In any situation it's dependable - "it's the champion."

Composition By Dawes on Air Tonight

"Melody in A" by Former Vice President Will Be Played Over WRC at 7. Juvenile Star in Sketch by Terhune on WMAL.

A musical composition of Gen. Charles #. Dawes, former Vice President and reently appointed Ambassador to the Court of St. James, will be heard in the Cities Service Hour from WRC at 7 o'clock. Gen. Dawes' "Melody in A" will be played as a violin solo by Sas cha Fic. nan.

The complete program follows: Prelude to first act of "Carmen," Bizet; "Golliwogg's Cake-Walk," Debussy "When Love is Kind," Moore, soprand "Polish Dance," Scharwenka; "Irish Patrol," Puerner; "Melody in A, "Praeludium, violin solo; Jarnefelt; "Fallen Leaf," Logan; selecion from "Nutcracker Suite," Tschai kowsky; "Au Naturel," Millegram;

"There's a Corner Up in Heaven," Berlin, soprano and contralto duet; "Aragonalse," from "Le Cid," Massenet; and
"Honeymoon Lane," Dowling. "Au Naturel," Millegram

"Honeymoon Lane," Dowling.

The slumber Music String Ensemble, directed by Ludwig Laurier, will play: Overture to "Orpheu" in the Underworld," Offenbach; "Children's Suite No. 1," Fletcher; "Hungarian Dance No. 7," Brahms; "Dreams of Childhood," Waldteufel; "Suite No. 2," Schumann; "Menuet," Karganoff; "Morning on the Zuyder Zee," Kriens; and "Consolation," Liszt.

Junior Durkin, juvenile costar of the successful play, "Courage," will present a sketch specially written for him by Albert Payson Terhune, the famous writer about dogs, in the Kodak Hour at 9 o'clock from WMAL. Walter Mills, lyric barytone, will be an additional feature of this occasion.

In spite of all the praise that Junior, Durkin has received for his acting abilities, he is first and foremost a boy. It was this quality of sincerity and horizoness that attracted Mr. Terhune when he attended a performance of "Courage," and he therefore asked to tered in his dog, who was brought nightly to the theater, Mr. Terhune offered to write a sketch for the boy, based on an actual experience of the youthful actor. The story concerns an accident that took place in the taxicab in which Junior and his dog-were traveling to the theater. Mr. Terinimitable way, and Junior will pre-

Mr. Mills will sing "By the Waters of Minnetonka," "Sylvia," and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes." Freddle Rich and his orchestra will am, presenting Doc West, the old illosopher, at 9:30 o'clock. HEN Contract Bridge became established, it gathered into its fold a feature which had been tried in Auction Bridge without becoming popular. That feature is the Goulash—at one time also called the "Mayonnaise"—now a recognized feature of the Contract menu, and by some regarded as the piece de resistance.

The idea of the Goulash is to have a sensational deal whenever all four sensational deal whenever all four players pass their first opportunity to declare, and bring out some abnormally large hands. The players are required to sort their cards in suits if they have not done so; the four hands are stacked on top of each other, the dealer's on the bottom and the others in reverse order from that in which the deal goes around. Then, with one cut but no shuffling, the cards are dealing, five and three at a time.

Of course, the result of all this is a most abnormal and freakish distribution of cards. A player holding Ace-King-Queen and three or even four others of a suit, can not by any means be sure that he will take every trick in it even if the suit be trump, the re-

$10,000 Radio Jobs Scorned; $6,400 Sought

Many Seek Position of Secretary to Commission Not Yet Vacant—Victor Offers Big Program. Broadcast From Spain.

By ROBERT D. HEINL. Where radio commissionerships at $10,000 a year have gone begging, a thing heretofore unheard of in Government jobs, one of them reported to have been offered by the White House to 50 persons, and another to 20 persons, before any one could be found who would take them, the position of secretary to the Radio Commission. which pays only $6,400 a year, seems to be in a different category. This is proved by the fact that though the place is not yet vacant, and there is no definite assurance forthcoming from C. H. Butman, the present secretary of commission, that he will resign on June 1, as was intimated sometime ago, there are already six or eight applicants for the job.

Ira E. Robinson, a Republican, the present chairman of the commission will resign June 1, yet though this has been known for a month or more, the writer has not heard of a single person seeking the $10,000 commissionership although there are six States to draw from: Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky. Since the creation of the commission there have been two secretaries, the first Sam Pickard, afterward commissioner, and now vice president of the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York, and Mr. Butman, formerly s York, and Mr. Butman, tornerly a Washington correspondent, specializing in radio. According to gossip at the commission, if Mr. Butman were to resign June 1, the man to succeed him would probably be Frank H. Lovette, of Elizabethton, Tenn., who has just been

MAY 17. A NNA BROWNELL JAMESON, the famous English author and art critic, was born this day, 1784.

Few have done as much to refine the of art criticisms as she. There are several books by her on various phases of art. Publication of "The Diary of an Ennuyee" marked her debut as an author. After a visit to her husband in Canada in 1836, ahe wrote "Winter Studies and Summer Rambles in Canada." Her husband was speaker of the House of Assembly of Canada.

Rally, After Sinking Spell Over 14 Per Cent Rate, Is Checked by Selling.

BURROUGHS FLIES HIGH

New York, May 16 (A.P.) .- Erratic tyrations of the call loan rate, added to renewed Thursday uneasiness over the New York rediscount rate, caused a confusing flaring and flickering of speculative enthusiasm on the Stock

The market went into a sinking spell during the morning, with the posting of a 14 per cent renewal rate for call loans, rallied briskly as the rate was successively decreased, finally reaching 8 per cent, but encountered considerable realizing near the close:

The extreme sensitiveness of the The extreme sensitiveness of the money market, with loans at 7 per cent on Monday, 10 on Tuesday, 15 yesterday and down to 8 today, has caused funch diseatisfaction in Wall street and an abaro criticism of banking practice and tended to discourage both public and processional operators from Stock Market participation. Total sales today again fell below 3,500,000 shares. Price indices indicated that the result of the indices indicated that the result of the market as a whole.

price fluctuations was a small gain for the market as a whole.

As had been foreshadowed by the Bank of England's retention of its 5½ and per cent rate this morning, the Federal Reserve directors made no change noon. With sterling again approaching the incoming gold point, no change is expected in the New York rate until the London rate has been again revised upward. Also it is believed in banking upward. Also it is believed in banking circles that reserve officials wish the San Francisco bank to bring its rate up to the 5 per cent level before a rate higher than this is inaugurated in the East. There is a tendency to associate Gov. Young's recent visit to the coast with this theory.

Loan Report Discourages Some.

The Federal Reserve brokerage loan are availation, while showing a negligible.

couraging to some speculative circles, as some of the larger commission houses had reported substantial detreases in loans with the recent liquiereases in loans with the recent liquidation. The upturn was attributed largely to new financing. Both New Attributed their loans a little, ably in connection with manner and their loans of first loans a little, ably in connection with manner and their loans of settlements. But this was offset by an increase in the loans for "others." New York banks also decreased their borrowings at the Federal Reserve by $23,000,000 to a total of $166,000,000

Outside of the credit situation there outside of the credit situation there was little in the day's news of market-wise influence sare, perhaps, the more optimistic reports fron the reparations conference. The conference is being watched with especial interest in copper circles. Sinclair Tefining increased the price of tank ca gasoline in the East a cent a gallon, and there were indications that other refiners would follow its example.

An important development disclosed this evening was the definite entrance of General Motors into the aviation field with purchase of a 40 per cent interest in Fokker. General Motors reported April sales to onsumers of 223, 303 cars, a gain of 13,936 over April 1928.

Burroughs Adding Machine was a high filer, mounting nearly 15 points, to a new high, at 302½, on proposal of a 5-for-1 splitu— Underwood Elliott Flaher was also strong on reports of record-breaking current earnings.

Some of the automotive parts issues were again strong, Sparks Withington rising more than 8 lints to a new peak, and Borg Warner selling up more than 4. Tobacco issues continued upward, Borillard reaching a new high for the year, at 28½.

Motors generally moved in a narrow ange, save Auburn, which was admit-ed to trading on this market today. red between 221 and 236, clos ng at the top, a new high. The upturn n Packard appeared checked for the moment and it closed off a fraction. Utilities closed fairly strong. North Utilities closed fairly strong, North American reaching a new peak at 118 and Detroit Edison duplicating its previous high with a 7-point advance. Coppers were sharply depressed during the morning, but mostly closed higher. Anaconda dropped to 121, but rallied to 1214, a net gain of nearly a point. Equitable Trust rose 15 points to 750 on announcement of consolidation with

U. S. Steel and Radio sagged a couple of points, then railled, the former clos-ing higher. Motor Products dropped 6 points in a small turnover, and Com-monwealth Power and Commercial Sol-vents each lost 5. Union Carbide, Wright Aero, Simmons and By-Products Coke were among issues losing 2 to 3

Commodities were irregular. cotton mounting about $1 a bushel on bearish weather and crop reports, and corn

Foreign exchanges were barely steady, with aterling cables again a shade lower at $4.85 1-16.

Polynesian Shirts

are made from tapa-the bark of the paper mulberry tree. A Polynesian without a shirt is no rare sight-but a Polynesian who can't find a shirt is unknown.

In America a man's welfare is not based on an unfailing bounty from nature; he depends more on his own forethought. An American "without a shirt to his back" is not unheard of-but he's rare, for more and more people are getting the idea that a savings fund started in times of prosperity will carry them through the lean years.

NOT MUCH ADO -Baseballically-IN NEW YORK

By WESTBROOK PEGLER_

N EW YORK, May 16.—If the present baseball situation in New York does not amount to a crisis, it will easily serve the purpose until a real crisis develops. The Brooklyn Robins, or Dodgers, or Flatbush Fusileers, there being no agreement on the name of the ball club, are worst and last in the National League, and the Glants are next-worst and nextthe Giants are next-worst and next-last. If the Brooklyn team were a little less worse the Giants would be worst, and it is no comfort to Mr. McGraw that his team has kept out of last place only because of some slight superiority over the Dodgers, or whatever they are.

In addition to all this, the Yankees have departed from their custom of starting the season at the top of the league with a margin of from six to the top of the league with a margin of from six to league with a margin of from six to thirteen games over the second team. Last year the Yankees used their spring margin to win the pennant in the fall. They seemed to be greatly fatigued on their last tour of the Midwestern in September, 1928, and would ave won the championship at all september. won the championship av am won the season as they not have won the champion of they had begun the seaso have begun the present one. Absence of a Team in Brooklyn

Is Root of All Trouble. Prophecy is no part of my business demure beginning of the and Giants brings to mind the well-known copybook of the baseball business, which us that a ball game won in May is s good as a ball game won in Septem-er. Of course, the present situation Yankees, half a game behind old Mack's Athletics, hardly represents allure, but I gather that the boys not held in quite the same fear respect this year, in addition to which their foreman, Mr. Huggins, al-ready has found it necessary to reprove them once for staying out late or taking stimulants, contrary to good with the Brooklyn Ball lub seems to be that there is no rooklyn Ball Club. There was a neoretical ball club eight or ten weeks go, but the theory was very obscure to best, and is scarcely tenable just ow Consequently the scouts of the large transfer of the large tr rm are visiting obscure centers in the saky-roof leagues, and no bellhop or axi driver can be considered safe from career with the Brooklyn firm, a fate hich is worse than death. Vagrants Not Safe With Robby

On a Scouting Trip.

Some of Uncle Wilbert Robinson's roblems are due to Uncle Wilbert's an jovial optimism. He has per-itted a number of capable individuals je escape to better fields of employ-ent at various times, but he also has certify that there was never enough food to exert the adult digestion at all.

Robby's Sick List Reads Like Log of Well-Patronized Clinic.

Jake Flowers, no kin to the late Tiger of the same name, went into a decline and lately went to Baltimore to become estranged from his appendix.
Bel Bissonette had pains in his head, which have now been diagnosed as sinus trouble. and Buzz McWeeney, another pitcher, forgot how to nitch. In sinus trouble. and Buzz McWeeney, an other pitcher, forgot how to pitch. It addition to these infirmities there wer miscellaneous cases of croup, beer-coli and acute fatigue. So, taking one con aideration with another, the sick repor of Uncle Wilbert's club reads like a loof a fairly well-patronized clinic.

At the present time there appears the a confidential plea circulating amon the National League proprietors for alightly used ball players to help ou Mr. Robinson. This will not brin Uncle Wilbert many genuine majo league athletes, but it can do no harn to try. In fact, the Robins are beyon harm, as they have lost their last nin games.

Meet Macks Today in First of Seventeen Crucial Games.

Hadley vs. Earnshaw: Overwork Looms for Pitchers.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

CTING MANAGER CLYDE MILAN A led his Nationals into town last night following their first 1929 Western invasion, which started from New York, and beginning this after-noon when the Athletics will be me in Griffith Stadium, the Nats, now under the direction of Walter Johnson again, will start a test which undoubt-edly will decide whether or not the Washington Club will have anything to say about the final pennant award. Seventeen successive games against either the Athletics or Yankees are schedule for the Nationals, including three double-headers in a row next week, not to mention the one listed for tomorrow against the men of Mack, and all will admit that this is a test of no small proportions. For tomor-row's opening game in the set with the A's, which ends here Sunday, either "Sad Sam" Jones or Irving Hadley will do the home flinging. Since told to get in shape before he would be allowed to start another game. Hadley has worked hard and declares he is now ready and, as he was most effective against the Elephants last year, he probably will get the call, especially as he has not started for some time. George Earnshaw likely will hurl for the Mackmen. Nats' Poor Record in West

Had the Nats played head-up ball while abroad, meir record would have been much better than it was, for they lost seven of their twelve starts, including a battle with the Yankees be-fore they went West, while their record in the "wild and woolly" was five vic-tories out of eleven games. That there was something wrong, other than me-chanical faults, is indicated by the fact that they outhit, outsoored and undererrored their collective opponents by goodly margins while turning in two less victories than losses.

As a matter of fact, a glance at the statistics of games played on the trip just ended makes it mighty hard to ment at various times, but he also has given refuge to many vagrants, turned off by other firms, who had then turned out to be pretty good ball players after all, one of these being Dazzy Vance Uncle Wilbert is always peering at tattered buns along the road with an idea of finding a fast ball pitcher or a heavy-hitting outfielder who has been discharged by one of the 'scientific managers of the other clubs.

This spring Uncle Wilbert's theoretical ball club did not look any worse than some of his other teams. But, Glenn Wright, the shortstop, obtained from the Pirates, reported for work with a moribund throwing arm, and presently other members of the troupe began to complain of tonsilitis, growing pains, strawberry rash and chills. Jim Elliott, one of the pitchers, came down with indigestion, which was a strange case for the medical journals, because I have tried the cuisine of the Dodgers' training camp hotel and will certify that there was never enough food to exert the adult digestion at all. the last two games.

Errors Aid Carroll to Davis Cup Singles Won Win Duel With Thomas, 4-3.

FIROIT, Mich., May 16 (A.P.).-FIROIT, Mich. May 16 (A.P.).—
Fighting to get within striking distance of the league leading Athletics and Yankees, the Detroit Tigers barely eked out a 4 to 3 victory today over the Chicago White Sox. Through the victory, the Tigers moved to within one game of Philadelphia and a half game of the Yankees, while remaining in a virtual tie with the remaining in a virtual tie with the ere long. Hopkins has been heard from less Hopkins has been heard from less than Campbell, which is unusual in view of his record this spring. In the "Grape Fruit League" games, he hurled 212-3 innings and allowed but eleven hits and three runs. He granted only six hits and one run in his last fifteen innings, which included a 4 to 1 victory over the Montgomery Southeastern Leaguers with the rookle being the first Nat pitcher to go the route. He has pitched but one inning since the season started, holding the Mackmen to one hit in this, on April 24.

Acting Boss Milan, however, has been watching Hopkins' work of late and stated last night that he has been improving in leaps and bounds, so much stated last night that he has been improving in leaps and bounds, so much so that the batters have noted it in his work during stick drills. "I believe he has a good chance of developing into a big leaguer this year," said Milan, "and I will be greatly disappointed if he does not make a good showing when we call on him shortly." All of which, no doubt, vill act as a tonic on the young flinger, who has been greatly discouraged of late.

His record this spring is quite de-pressing, of course, but I doubt that it is any worse than Ty Cobb's was one spring when he was manager in De-ward. "Mr. Navin got sore at me. I said, 'How do you expect a manager to make a good showing when the ball club loses thirteen ball games.'"

Old Mr. McGraw has been rubbing his chest with goose grease for almost two weeks, but wrapped himself in his wooles and returned to the bench, hoping to stimulate the Giants in his own intimate way. But they have lost the first three games under his stimulus, including two to the Boston Braves, who have no business playing better than the Giants.
Uncle Wilbert's team has outlost the Giants by a slim plurality to date, but of the Cardinal's disastrous baseball season has arrived.

When Capt. Bo Mansfield and his mates take the field at 3 o'clock against University of Delaware in Brookland Stadium the Red Birds will be drawing down the curtain on one of the most unpleasant scenes that has attended a Catholic University Baseball Team in years.

In fourteen games already played Catholic has lost eleven, and, naturally, the players themselves welcome the end of a campaign filled with so much grief. The Cardinals want to get it over with and look ahead to next spring, when, judging from present prospects, including material which will graduate from the 1929 freshmen, an era of success again should obtain with C. U.'s baseball fortunes.

canny opponent. Even with her loos putting her other strokes have been so xcellent she has given her opp a great handicap on the greens. Her coolness and golfing strategy never have deserted her. This morning she saw a four-hole lead melt away to two holes, but threatened with the loss of still another hole she steadled herself and won the next one and the match, 3 and 2 In the afternoon her opponent drew level from 2 down, but Miss Collett then stepped out to win four holes in a row and end the contest, 4 and 3. One unknown element of tomorrow's match will be the effect on the British player when she has an opponent on the tee who can match her long drives. Miss Collett yields nothing to the English girl on leight with wooden clubs, and should she be able to force her opponent to pisy the odd, the former British champion would be in a position she rarely has experienced in play with members of her own sex.

Glenna and Joyce are the best of friends, but the visitor may expect no mercy on the links, Miss Wethered has what boxing knows as the "killer inctinct," and she is relentless in pilling up an advantage. Her matches this week have been won by such scores as 8—7, 7—5, 6—5, and she has never been in danger of losing one. Her score for thirteen holes in her morning match today was 2 under 4s, which can be compared only to men's record rounds at St. Andrews. four-hole lead melt away to two hole

EASTERN AND TECH NINES CLASH FOR TITLE TODAY

Crucial Game Bridge At Eastern Stadium

Rivals Enter Titular Contest Undefeated for Series.

Ensor to Meet Hanna in Mound Battle; Start at 3:15.

THE crucial game of the scholastic baseball season takes place today when the Tech and Eastern nines clash at the Eastern Stadium at 3:15 clash at the Eastern Stadium at 3:15 o'clock. The result barring a tie, will determine the championship.

The race has been between Tech and Eastern all season with both tied at present for the lead with three victories apiece. Tech has won over Central, Business and Western in previous games while Eastern has gained verdicts over the same trio.

Eastern will go into the free minus.

Eastern will go into the fray minus one of its regular players, Shortstop Ed-wards, who has been found ineligible because of scholastic difficulty. He because of scholastic difficulty. He will be replaced by Zahn, a youngster who has sat on the bench most of the season. Zahn performed well against Business last Tuesday and may make many forget Edwards' loss, although the latter's work has been the best of a poor lot of shortstops in the series this year.

"Tack" Ensor, a left-hander, will oppose Bud Hanna on the mound according to the pitching selections given out by Coaches Edwards of Tech and Guyon of Eastern last night. Brown will handle Ensor's curves bebehind the bat for Tech, while Snyder will do the catching for Eastern.

Eastern's slugging array of Shapiro, Ware and Eagle will be in the outfield, while McCullough. Cappelli, Zahn and Fisher will comprise the infield. McCullough has driven over more runs than any other player in the series this an any other player in the series this Gorman and Hefiin play, first and third base, respectively. Gorman started hitting only about a week ago and may play a big part in his team's work this afternoon, while Hefiin has been the most consistent and timely hitter fer the Manual Trainers this season. English, the fiashlest fielding second baseman in the series, will play shortstop in a shift made by Coach Edwards to strengthen the left side of his infield. Wellens, shortstop, xill move over to second base. Wellen's arm is not strong, therefore the change.

NINE CLOSES WITH WIN

Milburn Is Star of 8-6 Victory Over Wash. College.

NIVERSITY OF MARYLAND'S
Baseball Team ended its season with an 8-6 win over Washington College, of Chestertown, Md., in a keenly-contested game yesterday at College Park.

Pinch-pitching of Harry Milburn, former Washington Central High twirler, was a vital factor in Maryland's win.

Navy Will Enter Team

In South Atlantic Meet

Prospects for a high grade of performances in the South Atlantic Association A. A. U. senior track and field championships June 8 in Central Stadium were brightened yesterday with receipt of word by Winfree E. Johnson secretary of the games committee, that the Naval Academy Team will participate. Navy has one of the strongest cinder path teams in the South Atlantic section, and generally was rated at the top until defeated by Georgetown last Saturday. Previously, the Middies had swamped Maryland.

According to Secretary Johnson, the forthcoming affair will present local track fans with several outstanding derivatives and such as the strongest of had swamped Maryland.

Oregon's Crater Lake.

In the State of Oregon is a lake which has wide fame. It has its bed in the crater of a volcano.

Study of that region shows that it was once the scene of great flows of lava. We can tell that from the kinds of rocks which are found around there.

MARKET IN BONDS HAS LISTLESS DAY

Convertible Issues Monopolize Interest, But Volume Is Reduced.

FOREIGN LIST IRREGULAR

neglect of the bond market caused investment obligations to drift today in session that was marked chiefly by a session that was marked chiefly by interest in the convertible issues. Even the stock privilege issues changed hands in smaller volume than in yesterday's session, and prices in this division were irregularly lower.

Demand for high grade bonds was limited, confined to buying by investors who saw opportunity to purchase deaired securities at attractive figures. Aside from the convertibles, volume of business was comparatively light and transactions in even fair-sized blocks were few. The Associated Press aver-were few. The Associated Press averages showed a further decline, scaling down to 95.12 as compared with the year's low of 94.92, established on March 27.

In the stock option list, American I. G. Chemical 5½s, American Telephone 4½s, Atchison 4½s and Missouri Pacific 5½s finished the day at fractional declines. International Telephone onal declines. International Tele-one 4½s reflected a rise in the price the stock by showing a net gain ½ point.

Inquiry for the best rall and industrial bonds was negligible, although buying was evident in some of the former at small advances. New York Central refunding 5s equaled the year's low at 103%, the final quotation, while Atchison adjustment 4s were off 2%. Bethlehem Steel consolidated 6s and 5½s dipped on easy trading, the first named dropping more than a point.

Foreign sugar bonds were irregularly lower on small turnovers, with Cespedes 7½s making a new low at 94. Cuba American and Cuba Dominican issues were steady at yesterday's closing ssues were steady at yesterday's closing

Among the weaker obligations in the day's trading were Phillips Petroleum 51/4s, which equaled the year's low of 5½s, which equaled the year's low of 5½s, which equaled the year's low of York State Rallways 4½s and New Orleans Terminal 4s, both of which went into new low ground.

The foreign list moved irregularly. Outstanding points of strength were Buenos Aires 6s, up 2, and British United Kingdom 4s, which advanced nearly a point. French Republic 7s were active within a narrow price range, closing fractionally lower inge, clesing fractionally lower.
United States Government obligation ontinued irregular on small buying.

Lapital increase Favored.

L. Bert Nye, manager of the American Security Co., of New York, for the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina, announced yesterday that trustees have recommended that stockholders of the company, at a special meeting to be held on June 5, approve an increase in the company's capital from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000.

The increase is to be represented by company's capital from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000.

The increase is to be represented by 50,000 additional shares of $25 par value each, to be offered to the stock-holders of the American Surety Co. on the basis of one new share for each four old shares held on June 10, 1929. at $75 per share, and another 50,000 shares of $25 par value each, to be utilized in connection with the nequisition of the shares of capital stock of the New York Casualty Co. Simultaneously, directors of the New York Casualty Co. Simultaneously, directors of the New York Casualty Co. and providing the stockholders for affiliation with the American Surety Co., and providing that stockholders of the Casualty Co. be given an opportunity of receiving one share of American Surety stock for each 1½ shares of New York Casualty stock.

In addition, each New York Casualty stockholder will be permitted to subscribe for one additional share of American Surety stock for each six shares of New York Casualty stock which he deposits at $75 per share. The plan also contemplates a special dividend of $6 per share on the New York Casualty stock prior to the acquisition of that stock by the American Surety Co.

derstood that plans now under consideration will result ultimately in more than doubling the corporation's present assets of $114,000,000, thereby expanding it into one of the largest and most important units in the public utility industry.

Controlling and operating properties as well as having investments aggregating $107,000,000 in a diversified list of public utility and allied enterprises. General Gas & Electric System already has an important place in the incood that plans now under con-has an important place in the in-dustry. Apart from its operating prop-erties, the outstanding development of the system is the gigantic hydro-electric project in South Carolina, which before a shovelful of earth was turned more than a year ago, had sold under long term contract and at advantage-ous price a minimum of 300,000,000 kilowatt hours per annum to the Carolina Power & Light Co., Duke Power Co. and the Broad River Power Co. The largest earth dam in the world for power purposes will be finished in 1930. Construction is being pushed rapidly and will require 11,000,000,000 cubic yards of earth fill for the dam itself, which will be about a mile and a half long, with a maximum height of 208 feet and a maximum width at the base of approximately one-quarter mile. The lake to be backed up on the Saluda River by the dam will be more than 33 miles long and will have a shore front of several hundred miles. Through the recently acquired in-terests of Associated Gas & Electric Co. new bankers are entering General Gas & Electric financing, and henceforth Harris Forbes Corporation will be identified with Pynchon & Co., Halsey, Stuart & Co. and others in supplying the financial needs of General Gas & Electric System.

New Financing Announced.

The management of the General Gas & Electric Corporation contemplates some new financing through the sale of an additional amount of common stock, Class A, which is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. It is understood that plans now under contemplate of the sale of fair demand, although larger buyers were not yet ready to accept seller ideas of prices. Fine goods were in moderate call. Calcuttaber of the prices of the prices. Fine goods were in moderate call. Calcuttaber of the prices of the prices of the prices in the weather news appeared chiefly responsible for the development of a steadier tone in the cotton market here today. Early advances of 15 to 20 points were followed by moderate reactions, but the market steadied up again, reaching the best prices of the day in the late tradins. July sold up to 18.73 and closed at 18.69, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 15 to 27 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 points. Relatively easy Liverpool cables appeared to be offset by private reports of showers and cooler weather in Arkansas and east Texas, while there was further buying of old crop months by the trade and covering or reports of a continued firm spot situation in the South. There was enough the initial prices, but the comparatively light offerings were quite readily absorbed and 18.78 for December contracts before the end of the morning. Or about 15 to 21 points and the initial prices, but the comparatively light offerings were quite readily absorbed and 18.78 for December contracts before the end of the morning. Or about 15 to 21 points net higher. There seemed to be a lattice more cotton for sale at these prices, and there were reactions after the publication of the South and cooler weather. Pratt States His Position.

"It's too much authority to give to a man in such a position." Pratt declared. "Of course, I wouldn't abuse that authority and it would be helpful at times to have such authority, but I am not so certain that if some one else had the authority they might abuse it. That's human nature. What we do is proper and justified. It's only the other fellows' actions which are not justified and in the end that is the test—whether we want the authority to use against us, and not whether we want the authority to use against us, and not whether we want the authority to use against the other fellow."

Pratt said he had submitted the Text of Rover's Cpinion in his letter to Pratt, Rover said: "This office is advised that the charged with the duty of compiling the new District Code are including this section of the old Revised Statutes. However, you will note from a reading of the statute that the major and superintendent of police is authorized to do certain things thereunder when there is a showing 'that there are goo grounds stating the same,' and that i is our view that our courts would in-terpret this portion of the statute as meaning no more nor less than prob-able cause, as contemplated under any warrant to be issued by the court. warrant to be issued by the court.

"It is, therefore, our position that no useful purpose would be served by transferring a duty we conceive to be properly judicial to a nonjudicial officer, because even 1 the face of the statute nothing appears which would support the theory that the major and superintendent of polic could issue a warrant on any less evidence than would be required by a judicial officer."
